Meetings and Dates

Purpose

The purpose of this public meeting was to deliberate and determine if the Task Group assessment on R3.3-1, Reinforced Carbon-Carbon Non-destructive Inspection was complete. The Recommendation had been conditionally closed in April 2004, and NASA submitted the requested additional data on February 2, 2005. The Task Group had evaluated the revised closure package and conducted fact-finding to verify the status of the recommendation. After deliberating, the Task Group closed its assessment of R3.3-1, stating that NASA had met the intent of the CAIB.

02/17/2005 - 02/17/2005

The purpose of this public meeting was to deliberate and determine if the Task Group assessment on R3.4-1, Ground-Based Imagery; R3.4-3, High-Resolution Imagery of Orbiter; R6.2-1, Consistency with Resources; R6.3-1, Mission Management Team Improvements; R9.1-1, Detailed Plan for Organizational Changes; and the Space Shuttle Program "raising the bar" action SSP-3, Contingency Shuttle Crew Support were complete. The Task Group decided that R3.4-1, Ground-Based Imagery, had been conditionally accepted during the December 2004 plenary; the Task Group now believed that NASA had provided the remaining data in a satisfactory manner and the recommendation was accepted to have fully met the intent of the CAIB. Four others: R3.4-3, High-Resolution Imagery of Orbiter; R6.2-1, Consistency with Resources; R6.3-1, Mission Management Team Improvements; and R9.1-1, Detailed Plan for Organizational Changes, were deliberated during the meeting. Task Group members agreed that the changes made by NASA for all five recommendations and "raising the bar" action SSP-3, Contingency Shuttle Crew Support met the intent of the CAIB.

06/08/2005 - 06/08/2005

The purpose of this public meeting was to deliberate and determine if the Task Group assessment on the remaining three CAIB recommendations R3.2-1, External Tank Debris Shedding; R3.3-2, Orbiter Hardening; and R6.4-1, Thermal Protection System Inspection and Repair were complete. After deliberating, the Task Group determined that NASA had not fully met the intent of R3.2-1, External Tank Debris Shedding; R3.3-2, Orbiter Hardening; and R6.4-1, Thermal Protection System Inspection and Repair.

20a. How does the Committee accomplish its purpose?

The Task Group performed an independent assessment of NASA's actions to implement the recommendations of the Columbia Accident Investigation Board (CAIB), as they related to the safety and operational readiness of STS-114. As necessary to their activities, the Task Group consulted with former members of the CAIB. While the Task Group did not attempt to assess the adequacy of the CAIB recommendations, it did report on the progress of NASA's response to meet their intent.

20b. How does the Committee balance its membership?

The Task Group consisted of non-NASA employees and one NASA non-voting, ex officio member, the Deputy Associate Administrator for Safety and Mission Assurance. Members of the Task Group and panels were chosen from among industry, academia, and government with recognized knowledge and expertise in fields relevant to safety and space flight.

20c. How frequent and relevant are the Committee Meetings?

Estimated Number of Meetings per Year - 2 Estimated Total Meetings - 4

20d. Why can't the advice or information this committee provides be obtained elsewhere?

The NASA Administrator determined that the establishment of this Task Group was in the public interest, in connection with performance of the Agency duties under the law.

20e. Why is it necessary to close and/or partially closed committee meetings?

N/A. All deliberative meetings were open to the public.

21. Remarks

On August 17, 2005, the Return to Flight Task Group completed its work with the delivery of a Final Report to the NASA Administrator and members of Congress.

Narrative Description

The task group supports NASA's mission and strategic plan by performing an independent assessment of the agency's Return to Flight efforts which helped the nation return the Space Shuttle safely to flight. The Space Shuttle enables humans today to build the world's largest orbiting laboratory, paving the way to the moon, on to Mars and further into the universe.

Cost Savings Comments

The task group was chartered to perform an independent assessment of NASA's actions to implement the recommendations of the Columbia Accident Investigation Board (CAIB), as they relate to the safety and operational readiness of STS-114. Although there are no direct cost savings attributed to the task group, there is potential cost avoidance through its independence assessment of significant changes made in the Space Shuttle Program. There are measurable, quantifiable items that have resulted from this committee's assessment for return to flight. This compliance, although not quantifiable at this point, is most certainly a cost avoidance measure by protecting the multi-billion dollar Shuttle fleet through this independent assessment.

What is the approximate Number of recommendations produced by this committee for the life of the committee?

Number of Recommendations Comments

The task group was not chartered to assess the adequacy of the CAIB recommendations but to review the actions of the Agency in implementing the CAIB recommendations. As a result, the task group did not collectively formalize any additional recommendations beyond CAIB for return to flight.

What is the approximate Percentage of these recommendations that have been or will be Fully implemented by the agency?

% of Recommendations Fully Implemented Comments

The task group did not collectively formalize any additional recommendations beyond CAIB for return to flight.

What is the approximate Percentage of these recommendations that have been or will be Partially implemented by the agency?

% of Recommendations Partially Implemented Comments

The task group did not collectively formalize any additional recommendations beyond CAIB for return to flight.

Does the agency provide the committee with feedback regarding actions taken to implement recommendations or advice offered?

Yes ☒ No ☐ Not Applicable ☐

Agency Feedback Comments

The Space Flight Leadership Council (SFLC) reviewed and approved all official CAIB recommendations closure transmittals from NASA to the RTF TG. Since this information is generated in the technical organization and reviewed at the SFLC, this assures that integrated feedback from the agency is provided to the task group.

What other actions has the agency taken as a result of the committee's advice or recommendation?
